THANKS TO 2025 WELCOMING 2026

Regarding training, (1) On February 15, we co-organized a "Carbon Reduction and Care for the Earth" Workshop with the Hualien Diocese. Associate Professor Lin Yi-Chun introduced ESG, circular economy, carbon emission review, and carbon inventory to address green policies and climate change issues. Approximately 70 people participated. (2) On October 31, the Association of Major Religious Superiors, together with the Catholic Academic Research Institute of Fu Jen Catholic University and Fu Jen Faculty of Theology of St. Robert Bellarmine, co-organized "Symposium on Economy and Poverty from the Perspective of Caring for our Common Home". The Speakers covered Catholic social teachings, business ethics, and social practice cases. Many religious members and management personnel from Catholic Institutes participated the Symposium, approximately 124 people both in person and online.

Regarding spiritual activities, (1) On May 19, members of the Team visited Sun Moon Lake to celebrate 10th anniversary of Laudato Si through praising and giving thanks amidst the wonders of God's work. A short film of reflection and prayer was created and shared on YouTube during the Laudato Si Week from May 25-31. Additional reflection and action themes were also provided and shared on social media. (2) 2025 The UN International Day of Peace Prayer Meeting was a compilation of highlights from our Team's past International Day of Peace Prayer Meetings for presenting this year's theme, "Act Now for a Peaceful World " It premiered on YouTube on the evening of September 19, accumulating 850 online views.
